

CulinaryAgents

Culinary Agents (www.culinaryagents.com) is the social business network designed for the food and beverage industry. Our focus on job matching and career development helps talented food and beverage professionals stand out among the masses, while also exposing them to new opportunities. Profiles are FREE and reflect experience, skills and interests, similar to a resume. Every time a job enters the system, it searches the talent pool for matches and notifies both parties so be sure to keep your profile updated!

Culinary Agents also offers the only professional networking platform for the F&B industry. In addition, we have an ongoing commitment to find and develop interesting content which will educate and entertain the talent of the industry. Culinary Agents has launched nationally, with plans to extend into international markets in the future.

We're working with some of the best restaurants in the US, and we're anxious to help them find the best talent, so if you are an experienced FOH/BOH professional or a rising star just starting out, we want you to be part of our community!

Visit www.culinaryagents.com to build your FREE professional profile, which will allow you to search, apply to, or forward jobs easily, and also to take advantage of the benefits of networking with culinary professionals.
